WHAT IS MODEL UN?

Model UN is an educational simulation in which students represent delegates from different countries and debate real-world issues in a setting that mirrors the United Nations. Participants research global topics, draft resolutions, and negotiate with fellow delegates to reach consensus/come up with resolutions

DPSIMUN

Our Official Model UN that happens every year. This is a Model UN with high levels of diplomacy, cooperation, debates, and a twist of FUN!

YOUR ROLE AS A DELEGATE

- Represent a specific country
- Debate international issues
- Research your country's position
- Negotiate with other countries
- Develop solutions
- Draft resolutions
- Vote on proposed solutions

NB: You are not debating what YOU believe. You are representing what YOUR COUNTRY would advocate for.

OPENING SPEECHES

A Model United Nations (MUN) opening speech is a delegate's first formal address to the committee, outlining their assigned country's stance, general views, and proposed solutions on the agenda topic.

What should your opening speech include?

1

Problem

The specific problem you want to solve

2

Information

Back up your views on the issue and solutions with facts from research

3

Solution

What you want to do about the issue and why it is relevant

4

Action

The step by step how to solve the issue.

SAMPLE OPENING SPEECH

Committee: World Food Program

Topic: Eradicating Global Hunger

Country: Norway

Honorable chair distinguished delegates,
The first step to stopping starvation is improving access to clean water, critical for food growth. Half of the 800 million people without access to clean water live in Sub-Saharan Africa. The Kingdom of Norway believes that the WFP's efforts should focus on community-oriented aid to promote self-sufficient living. Norway thinks self-operated water harvesting devices are a good way to do this. The University of Akron in Ohio developed a water harvester that produces 10 gallons of drinking water per hour from thin air. The UN should purchase, and distribute, water harvesters to the countries most in need such as Niger, Burundi and Mozambique. For the UN to ensure long term success, the WFP should transfer harvesters and not funds to the countries in need.

PARTICIPATE

POINTS

Point of Personal Privilege

- Raised when an external or environmental factor hinders a delegate's ability to participate.
 - Purpose: Fix physical or auditory discomfort (e.g., room temperature, low speaking volume).
 - Example: "Point of Personal Privilege: Could the delegate speak louder?"

Point of Order

- Raised when a delegate believes the Chair or committee has violated the established Rules of Procedure(ROP).
 - Purpose: Correct procedural inconsistencies or mistakes immediately.
 - Example: "Point of Order: The current procedure is inconsistent with the rules."

Point of Parliamentary Inquiry

- Raised to ask the Chair a question regarding the rules, timeline, or current parliamentary status.
- Purpose: Seek information on how committee proceedings will move forward.
- Example: "Point of Parliamentary Inquiry: Could the Chair clarify how we proceed after this motion?"

MOTIONS

Motions are formal proposals put forward by delegates to direct the committee's flow, alter the format of debate, or transition between phases. The Chair evaluates whether a motion is in order before putting it to a committee vote.

- Motion to Open the General Speakers' List (GSL): Initiates formal, structured debate where delegates deliver overarching policy statements on the primary agenda item.
- Motion for a Moderated Caucus: Temporarily suspends the GSL to allow focused, timed speeches addressing a specific sub-topic.
- Motion for an Unmoderated Caucus: Temporarily suspends formal rules so delegates can move freely around the room, negotiate, build coalitions, and draft text.
- Motion to Introduce a Draft Resolution: Formally brings a completed draft resolution onto the floor for committee review and debate.

Structuring a Valid Motion: Motions must specify exact parameters rather than general requests.

- Incorrect: "I motion for a caucus."
- Correct: "The delegate of Ghana motions for a 10-minute moderated caucus, with a 45-second individual speaking time, on the topic of strengthening youth employment programs."

COMMITTEE FLOW

Model /UN committees operate as an iterative cycle rather than a simple sequence of speeches ending in a vote. Progress relies on moving dynamically between formal statements, targeted debate, and informal negotiation.

MODERATED CAUCUS

A moderated caucus is a structured debate on a specific sub-topic where the Chair n of the floor, calling on individual delegates to speak within strict time limits.

- Execution: If a motion passes (e.g., a 12-minute caucus with 45-second speaking slots on online minor protection), the Chair calls on delegates who raise their placards. Speeches must remain strictly on the defined sub-topic.
- Speech Formula (Identify → Explain → Propose):
 - Identify: Pinpoint a specific operational or policy challenge.
 - Explain: Detail why this specific issue matters within the scope of debate.
 - Propose: Present a concrete action or framework for the committee to adopt.
- Example Speech: "While many states have focused on removing harmful content, this delegation believes prevention must begin earlier. We therefore propose digital-literacy programs for minors alongside stronger reporting mechanisms for platforms."

Best Practice: Avoid re-reading general country statements. Use moderated caucuses to advance active proposals, respond to other delegations, and guide the drafting process.

UNMODERATED CAUCUS

An unmoderated caucus suspends formal debate, allowing delegates to move freely to discuss policy, negotiate compromises, and write draft clauses. Real diplomatic compromises and coalition building occur during this period.

- Core Actions:
 - Locate Allies: Identify nations with aligned strategic interests or shared regional priorities.
 - Negotiate Terms: Bridge policy differences by finding common ground across different proposals.
 - Form Blocs: Group delegates together to build support for a unified document.
 - Draft Resolutions: Translate negotiated ideas into structured preambulatory and operative clauses.
- Diplomatic Approach: Avoid isolating within familiar groups; actively approach other delegates to build broader coalitions.
 - Opening: “We are building solutions around digital privacy. What are your country's main priorities on this?”
 - Follow-up: “Our policies align on stronger privacy protections. Let’s collaborate on a joint operative clause for this draft.”

NEGOTIATE

BLOC BUILDING

What is a Bloc?

Block building is the process of forming a group of delegates who shares similar interest or solutions.

How to Create Blocs

- Approach delegates
- Discuss your country's position
- Identify a common ground
- Combine your ideas

TIP: A STRONG BLOCK SHOULD ALLOW MEMBERS TO CONTRIBUTE WHILE STILL
RESPECTING EACH
COUNTRIES INDIVIDUAL
POSITION

DIPLMACY

What is Diplomacy?

Diplomacy means working respectfully with other delegates while representing your country's interests

How to be Diplomatic

- Always listen to different viewpoint
- Remain respectful when you disagree
- Look for a common ground

TIP: GOOD DIPLOMACY
FOCUSES ON PERSUASION
AND COOPERATION RATHER THAN TRYING TO FORCE
OTHERS TO ACCEPT YOUR POSITION.

NEGOTIATION

What is Negotiation

Negotiation is the process of reaching an agreement between delegates with different positions.

How to Negotiate

- Know which parts of your country's positions are essential
- Listen to what delegates need
- Look for solutions that benefit multiple countries
- Don't abandon your country's interest

TIP: PRIORITIZE WHAT IS ESSENTIAL VS WHAT CAN BE CHANGED

● ● ● RESOLUTION WRITING

What is a Resolution?

A resolution is a formal document containing the committees proposed solutions to an issue.

Writing the Resolution

- Committee name
- Topic
- Main submitters
- Signatories
- Sponsors
- Preamble clauses provide background and explain why the action is needed
- Operative clauses present the action the committee proposes
- Sub-clause
- Final clause

TIP: RESOLUTION SHOULD BE CLEAR, SPECIFIC, REALISTIC, AND WITHIN THE COMMITTEE'S MANDATE

SAMPLE RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE: United Nations Environment Programme

TOPIC: Addressing Plastic Pollution

MAIN SUBMITTERS: Ghana, Kenya, Norway

CO-SPONSORS: Brazil, Canada, Japan, Sweden

THE UNITED NATIONS ENVIRONMENT PROGRAMME,

Recognizing the growing impact of plastic pollution on marine ecosystems,
Concerned by the amount of plastic waste entering oceans and waterways,
Acknowledging the need for greater public awareness and international cooperation;

1. Encourages Member States to reduce single-use plastics by:
 - a. Promoting reusable alternatives in schools and public institutions,
 - b. Supporting recycling and waste-management programmes,
 - c. Raising public awareness about the environmental effects of plastic pollution;
2. Recommends increased international cooperation through:
 - a. Sharing effective waste-management practices,
 - b. Supporting developing countries in improving recycling infrastructure,
 - c. Organizing educational campaigns on responsible waste disposal.

AMENDMENTS

What is an Amendment?

Amendment is a proposed change to a draft solution.

Writing the Amendment

- It can add remove or change wording in a clause
- Amendments allow delegates to improve a resolution
- Allow delegates to address disagreements before voting

TIP: ALWAYS CONSIDER
WHETHER AND AMENDMENT
STRENGTHENS THERE
RESOLUTION ERA MAY
CONSISTENT WITH YOUR COUNTRY'S POSITION

PERSONAL PRONOUNS

In Model UN, There is NO use of Personal Pronouns!

DON'T USE	USE
I / ME / MY	“ THE DELEGATE OF”
WE / US / OUR	“THE COMMITTEE”
YOU / YOUR	“THE REPUBLIC OF” ETC!
